THE COLLEGE OF LAW

SPECIAL LECTURERS

In addition to the regular work of the College of Law, as hereafter outlined, special lectures are given from time to time by leading members of the bench and bar of the State. During the year just closed the Law School was peculiarly fortunate in having such lecturers as Chief Justice Whitfield and Justices Cockrell, Shackelford and Taylor, all of the Supreme Court of Florida. Chief Justice Whitfield delivered two lectures, the first on Public Service Corporations and the second on Appellate Procedure and Practice in Florida. Justice Cockrell also lectured on Florida Appellate Procedure and Practice. Justice Shackelford gave four lectures on General Practice and Justice Taylor lectured on Legal Ethics.

The faculty and students of the College of Law feel grateful to the members of our Supreme Court for the helpful and instructive lectures delivered by them, and also for the uplift and inspiration caused by their interest in the work of the College of Law manifested by their visits to the University. A similar course of lectures is being arranged for the coming year.

LOCATION OF THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Florida is located at Gainesville, a city of 8,000 inhabitants, the judicial seat of Alachua County, in a region noted for its beauty and healthfulness. The city is the headquarters of the phosphate industry and is surrounded by a productive agricultural district. Besides being the seat of the University of Florida, Gainesville has a well organized public school of twelve grades, a public library and beautiful churches of the leading religious denominations.

Gainesville enjoys excellent railroad facilities, affording her ready communication with every part of the State by means of the A. C. L., the T. and J. and the S. A. L. Railroads. It is seventy miles from Jacksonville, forty miles from Ocala, and one hundred and seventy-seven miles from Tampa.

GENERAL STATEMENT

In 1891, the American Bar Association declared that in its opinion it was a part of the highest duty and interest of every civilized State to make provision, when necessary, for maintaining schools of law and the thorough legal education of all who are licensed to practice law. Feeling with its full force the soundness of this doctrine and being moved by a desire to discharge this duty on the part of the State, the State Board of Education and the Board of Control provided for the opening of the College of Law in the University of Florida in September, 1909. The advantages to accrue to the State from having a thorough and systematic course of instruction in the common law, with special consideration of the peculiarities and exceptions applicable in Florida, as a part of its educational system, are many and evident.

It was the purpose of the Board of Control to establish in the University of Florida a law school which, by the quality of its work and the character of its equipment, would merit and command the confidence and support of the bench and bar of the State and would draw within its walls the young men who will constitute the future bar of Florida. That the hopes of accomplishing these results were well founded and that gratifying progress towards these ends has been made, are shown by the number and character of those who have availed themselves of the advantages offered by the College of Law.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Graduates and matriculates of colleges and universities and applicants who have completed a high school course of four years will, upon presentation of proper credentials to that effect, be admitted to the College of Law without examination as to preliminary education, as candidates for a degree. Other applicants, if candidates for a degree, must show by written examination, or by certificate of the superintendent or principal of the institution where they took the work, that they have satisfactorily completed two years of high school work, one-fourth of which must be work in English.

Notice is hereby given that with the opening of the session of 1913, the minimum requirements for admission to the College of Law will be increased to three years of high school work and in the fall of 1914 a high school course of four years will be required.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Persons who are at least twenty-one years of age and are unable to comply with the above entrance requirements in their entirety, are allowed to become special students and pursue a selected course of study under the guidance of the Dean of the College of Law, but without the privilege of being enrolled as candidates for a degree. If the entrance conditions are removed not later than the opening of the first semester of the senior year, such students may, by special vote of the Faculty, become regular students and candidates for a degree.

ADVANCED STANDING

Attorneys at law who have been admitted to practice in the courts of this State and who comply with the above entrance requirements will be admitted to the senior class without examination.

No work in law done in other institutions will be accepted towards a degree, unless the applicant passes satisfactorily the examinations held in the subjects in the junior year of this department, or unless, by special vote of the Law Faculty, credit is given towards senior standing without examination for such work. In no case will credit be given in this way for work not done in residence at an approved law school.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

The course of instruction in the College of Law extends through two years of thirty-five weeks each, exclusive of vacations. The academic year is divided into two semesters, the first having eighteen weeks and the second seventeen.

The purpose of the College of Law is to educate its students by the study of jurisprudence and to acquaint them with the foundation principles of the common law at the same time. "The ability to think clearly, to reason closely, to appreciate distinctions quickly, to investigate thoroughly, to generalize accurately and to state his conclusions tersely, are prime requisites of the safe counselor." To secure for the student this power should be the constant effort of both student and faculty.

The method of instruction in the College of Law has been planned with these ends in view. This is largely by the use of text-books and selected cases. Each case is carefully studied by the student and in the class room he is required to analyze it, giving in his own language a clear and concise statement of the essential facts, the issues involved in the case, the law governing it and the reasoning of the court for the conclusion reached. This practice tends "to greater thoroughness in reading, greater care in reasoning and greater accuracy on the part of the student in the art of expression."

In connection with this case work, the student studies a well-written text-book on the subject under consideration which gives him a systematic summary of the same, more detailed information concerning the application of the law in particular instances and an outline of the exceptions to and limitations upon the general principles considered in the cases.

Particular stress is placed on the statutory modifications of the common law in Florida. This is true in every subject in the curriculum, but it is especially emphasized in Pleading, Practice and Evidence, as the course of study is designed to thoroughly instruct the student in the peculiarities of substantive law and procedure in Florida so he will be able to enter upon the practice understandingly at once.

With these ends in view, the following course of study has been prepared:

The last week of each semester is devoted to examinations covering the work of the semester. These examinations are in writing and are rigid and searching, but ARE NOT NECESSARILY FINAL. To be considered, prima facie, to have satisfactorily completed a subject, the student must obtain an average grade of at least 75 per cent, and an examination grade of at least 75 per cent. During the last week of the second year, any candidate for a degree may be required to pass an examination in any or all subjects given in the course and attain a minimum average grade of 75 per cent in all subjects in order to be recommended for a degree.

THE UNIVERSITY PRACTICE COURTS

Thoroughly organized practice courts are regular features of the course of instruction in the second year. Weekly sessions of the courts are held over which the Judge of the Practice Court presides. The object of the course in the Practice Courts is to give the student practical instruction in pleading and practice at law and in equity and experience in the preparation and trial of cases. The work is arranged as follows:

First—Cases arising upon prepared statements of fact are assigned to the second year students upon which they are to determine what proceedings to bring and how to bring them, issue, serve and return process, prepare the pleadings and bring the case to an issue on a question of law. Each student must take part in one case at law and one in equity. The case is first heard on the sufficiency of the form and the structure of the pleadings and, when these are approved, the issue of law is argued and decided, the students acting as attorneys on each side drawing the order, judgment or decree they deem themselves entitled to.

Second.—In the second class of cases in the Practice Court, actual controversies are arranged and assigned for trial in the Circuit Court as issues of fact. After determining what action to bring, the students assigned to the case are required to issue the proper process and prepare and file the necessary pleadings, subpoena the witnesses, select the jury, examine and cross-examine the witnesses and argue the case to the jury. Each student is required to participate in the trial of one civil and one criminal case and must take part in carrying one chancery, one civil and one criminal case to the Supreme Court for review.

THE LAW LIBRARY

Law books are the working tools of the practicing lawyer. To teach the student how to use these tools, how to use the digest, encyclopedias and reports, is as much the work of the law school as to teach him the general principles of the law.

The College of Law was fortunate in being able to open its doors with a good working library and now has on its shelves the following books: Three sets of the Florida Supreme Court Reports, with digest; The Session Laws of Florida from 1822 to 1911, except from 1828 to 1834; McClellan's Digest and Duval's

Compilation of the Laws of Florida; Revised Statutes of 1892 and the General Statutes of 1906; The Northwestern, Southwestern, Northeastern, Southeastern, Atlantic, Pacific and Southern Reporters; The American Decisions, American Reports and American State Reports, with digests; The Lawyers Reports Annotated, with digests; The United States Supreme Court Reports, with digests; The New York Common Law and Chancery Reports, with digests; The New York Court of Appeals Reports, the Reports of the Supreme Courts of Michigan and Massachusetts and the New Jersey Equity Reports to the Reporters; The Reprint of the English Reports, the Encyclopedia of Law and Procedure and more than two hundred of the leading text-books and books of reference. The Legislature of 1911 has also appropriated one thousand dollars for the purchase of new books.

THE MARSHALL DEBATING SOCIETY

It is important that those who study law and intend to engage in its practice should give attention to the subject of public speaking. To suppose that excellence in public speaking and debating is a gift of nature only and not the result of patient and persistent effort, is a mistake. Believing in the truth of these statements, the students in the College of Law met early the first year and organized a society that would secure to its members practice in debating and public speaking and experience in arguing legal questions, as well as drill in parliamentary law. The society was fittingly named "The Marshall Debating Society," in honor of the memory of that distinguished Southern jurist, John Marshall. The membership and work in the society are limited to students in the College of Law, but the Faculty give all assistance and encouragement to the work that is possible.

UNIVERSITY PRIVILEGES

The advantages of the other departments of the University are open to such students in the College of Law as desire and are able to accept them. Courses in Constitutional and Political History, International Law, Political Economy, Logic, Rhetoric and English Composition are particularly recommended to law students. No extra charge will be made for such courses, but students in the College of Law will be permitted to take them only with the consent of the Law Faculty and the professors whose courses they wish to take.

DEGREE

The degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) is conferred upon those students who satisfactorily complete the course of study as previously described. Students admitted to advanced standing may, if they do satisfactorily the work as prescribed by the rules of the department, receive the degree after one year's residence, but in no case will the degree be granted unless the candidate is in actual residence during all of the second year.

ADMISSION TO THE BAR

The graduates of the College of Law are licensed by the Supreme Court, without examination, to practice in all the Courts of Florida upon presenting their diplomas, duly issued by the proper authorities and upon furnishing satisfactory evidence that they are twenty-one years of age and of good moral character.

EXPENSES

TUITION.—A tuition fee of twenty dollars a semester, payable in advance, will be charged all students.

REGISTRATION FEE.—An annual registration fee of five dollars will be charged all students.

DAMAGE DEPOSIT.—In order to secure the University property against damage, the sum of five dollars ($5.00) must be deposited at registration. Damage known to have been done by any student will be charged to his individual account; all other damages will be prorated among the students.

At the end of the scholastic year, this deposit, less the amount deducted, will be returned to the student.

INFIRMARY FEE.—An infirmary fee of three dollars ($3.00) will be charged each student residing on the campus, the proceeds of which will go towards defraying the salary of a resident nurse. This will secure the student, in case of illness, the privilege of a bed in the infirmary, which occupies Section A of Thomas Hall; the services of the nurse, and attention from the University physician, E. R. Flint, M.D. (Harvard). The payment of this fee does not increase the University charges made in former years, as a like amount is deducted from the cost of board and lodging for the first semester.

BOARD AND LODGING.—Board and lodging will be furnished by the University at a cost of sixty dollars ($60.00) for the first semester, not including the Christmas vacation, and sixty-four dollars and fifty cents ($64.50) for the second semester. These sums must be paid at the beginning of each semester. Board and lodging will be furnished only by the semester and not by the month. In very exceptional cases, arrangements may be made to pay in three installments, payable in advance. This includes meals in the dining-hall and room (with heat, light and access to a bath room), furnished as stated below. The dining-hall will be closed during the Christmas holidays.

ROOM WITHOUT BOARD.—Students occupying a room in the Dormitories, but not taking meals in the dining-hall, will be charged $20.00 per semester for lodging.

FURNITURE.—All rooms are partially furnished. The furniture consists of two iron bedsteads and mattresses, chiffonier, or bureau, table, washstand and chairs. The students are required to provide all other articles, including pillows, bedding, wash bowl, pitcher, mirror, half curtains, mosquito-bar, etc.

BOOKS.—The text-books used in the College of Law will, in most cases, be found in the law library, but it will be necessary for students to provide themselves with books for their daily use. The cost of books is about forty-five dollars a year for each year of the course. Nearly all the books are standard texts and will form a nucleus of the student's future library.

DIPLOMA FEE.—No diploma fee is charged on graduation.

SUMMARY OF EXPENSES.—It will thus be seen that the total minimum cost to the student of a year's work in the College of Law, exclusive of books and laundry, is one hundred and sixty-five ($165) dollars.

MILITARY DRILL AND DISCIPLINE.—Law students are excused from military drill and are not subject to military discipline.

6. The Graduate School offers courses leading to the degrees of M.A. and M.S.

Beautiful Buildings and Attractive Campus.

Three more new buildings completed last year. Two additional, handsome structures nearing completion now, will be ready for occupancy September 17, 1912. Contracts for the History and Language Hall, to cost $40,000.00, and the George Peabody Hall, for which the Peabody Board gave the University $40,000.00, will be let July the 3, 1912. Increase of nearly 300 per cent in enrollment during the past three years shows fine optimistic and progressive spirit at the State University. Fine moral tone. Exceptional advantages at lowest cost.

For catalogue address the President of the University.
